SHORTLISTED FOR THE GERMAN
PANEL NEW SPANISH BOOKS
TRANSLATION PROGRAM

BOOKSELLERS AWARD 2019

“The jury awarded the prize unanimously for its quality and literary daring, for its mastery of language” and ability to synthesize arguments, and for the originality in the approach of the limits between fiction and reality, which allows it to play with the readers and surprise them until the end.”

COMPARISONS AND ECHOES:

Paul Auster, Pirandello,
David Lynch, Borges,
Kafka, Saramago, Onetti,
Pere Calders, Quim
Monzó, Sergi Pàmies,
Màrius Serra.

A sophisticated and intelligent story where reality and fiction form a labyrinth that will catch the reader from the first page.

Pol Beckmann tells in Novel·la the story of Bekman, a writer deeply in love with Sofia, the perfect woman with whom he maintains a perfect relationship. Bekman works on the novel that has to make of him a lead name, although his new perfect relationship is a time-stealer. One day he meets Laura, who is not as perfect as Sofia... but it is more real. And the complex love triangle is served. Novel·la ends up being, in the words of its publisher, “a sick game between fiction and reality”, if we agree to call reality what is written in a work of fiction.

Pol Beckmann

(Barcelona, 1991). Writer. After few awards for short stories he decided to write his first novel. At the age of 27 years, Beckmann publishes Novel (Novel·la) a text that will be a breakthrough for many.

PRAISES

EL PAÍS - «There will be, no doubt, who gets carried away by the force of fiction that is reinvented sophisticatedly in this novel.»

EL MUNDO - «Novel·la is a short and perfect piece of narrative watchmaking that will disturb more than one reader.»

LA VANGUARDIA - «Novel·la is a story of doors that open and close, which lead from reality in the novel that the protagonist is writing, from the novel to the dream, and from the dream to reality.»

SERRA D'OR - «Beckmann's undeniable talent and the elegant intelligence of his debut are encuriosidors and exciting.»

DIARI DE MALLORCA - «A work in which all the elements fit perfectly. Hilarious!»

EL NACIONAL - «Novel·la escapes the parameters of today's literature. It is a work that surprises the reader and forces him to ask himself continuous questions, and that does not bore him even in a single moment.»

LA VANGUARDIA - «Highly recommended read to fight the obscure literalness. An effective game, not at all pretentious, that allows us to question our point of view.»

EL PUNT AVUI - «Beckmann narrates in a careful and personal way, providing a system of images and descriptions that are appreciated in a literary market sometimes too flat, predictable, repetitive.»

EL NÚVOL - «Novel·la is pure mischief. Game and confusion. A combination between solid and elegant experimentation. It contains high doses of maturity and well-oiled machinery.»

LA REPÚBLICA - «Pol Beckmann has a much appreciated stylistic power.»

FROM THE READING REPORT (KIRSTEN BRANDT), GERMAN PANNEL:

“ In a sophisticated, very entertaining yet always disturbing way, Novel·la toys with reality and fiction, and in a newspaper article it has been compared Pirandello's. It is astonishing how long the reader allows him/herself to be fooled, because the moment one starts reading a novel one is ready to at first believe every word an author writes. The author succeeds with making the reader believe in the credibility of what is told, to undermine it only gradually. From then on, of course, one constantly asks if this now is “real” (and part of which reality?) or just a product of the protagonist's imagination.

Thus, Novel·la is an at least ambiguous game which is somewhat nightmarish, due to the growing darkness surrounding the relation between Bekman and Sofia. An extremely recommendable literary debut. ”

“ A memorable and unconcessional narration about family identity and feelings of loss and guilt. ”

After visiting his father at the nursing home, the neurosurgeon Ricardo Marzoa feels overgrown, out of his wits. He is dragging his life as it was a heavy weight: too many years on his shoulders, too many lives that have gone away in his own hands and, also, a recent death. He is going through a humiliating professional moment and his personal situation is confusing. The situation is so critic that he has come to the conclusion that he needs urgently a psychotherapist. The time has come to break all his ties that unite him with family and work.

Questions about personal identity and the feelings of guilt and loss hover on the novel, which the author writes in a lucid and precise way.

The Author

Maria Escalas

(Mallorca, 1969) is a professional musician and teacher of this subject at a secondary school. With Abans que el teu record torni cendra she successfully started her literary career. Sara i els silencis is her second novel and it's called to be a new bestseller.

Sara seeks to meet again who she was: a young woman with talent to compose who gave up her promising career to make way for her husband's. She takes again the unfinished work that she wanted to dedicate to her father and to fight the absence of self-inspiration she asks for the help of her old teacher, the demanding and grumpy Josep. He agrees, but with one condition: that Sara would welcome Cristina, a twenty years younger girl, as generously as he did when Sara was young and eager to learn.

This friendship will overcome all barriers and Sara will find the right notes to color her new life.

“Maria Escalas has written a novel of an incredible enduring emotion. An ode to those who, after so much silence, get up to take the floor.”

« [...] The author builds a second person singular, a conscience that will address to the protagonist throughout the entire book.

[...] A fluent reading with an oral language without impositions. The author says things as they are, and reality moves.

[...] Escalas shares a hard and detailed account of the before and after of cancer, femininity, self-esteem, infidelity and macho abuse, asymmetric human condition, infinite doubts, the inevitable recreation in suffering, the need to affection, death by fascicles and fear of fear.»

Riding all night is crossing in the dark toward boundaries that seem unattainable but not always are. Riding all night is not tearing down and chasing the moon, indefatigable. To ride all night is not to be afraid of fighting the darkness that is inside us or that which comes from outside.

Characters that could be your neighbor, your daughter, your greengrocer or yourself, are the protagonists of these short stories juggling the love that dries up in their fingers, the life they carry on and the duty that hangs on them. These short stories have been written with invigorating doses of humor and tetchiness, that arouse smiles, but also restlessness.

With this very first book Carlota Gurt shows an impetuous and talent literary debut.

“A mythical space that becomes literature”

Barcelona, the beginning of the XXth century. Santa Creu Hospital is heaving inside the old medieval city walls that have sheltered it for five centuries. This is a portrait of a society divided by social classes where the lives of a handful of characters cross over indefectibly and together they make the new hospital for the poor people of the city a reality.

Through the construction of some of the greatest modernist gems in the world, men and women seek happiness at the rhythm that marks the new times.

Assiscla Xatot is born in Perpinyà in 1852 with a very special ability: a gift that allows him to acquire any language as soon as he hears a single word. Xatot is involved in the riots of the Paris Commune and is deported to New Caledonia, where he will be adopted by an indigenous clan and named his particular storyteller.

Following the patterns of picaresque and adventure novels, Joan-Lluís Lluís brings into question the survival of languages, what's evil, ambition, servility, colonialism, ideals betrayed, fate, chance, what is 'wild' and what is 'civilization'... all through a precise and beautiful language and an absorbent and fast-paced rhythm.

Among the most classic adventure and the literary genre, a particular trip of a young Catalan with a unique talent.

A plot that not only manages the suspense masterfully but that also maintains the narrative tension increasing until the very end.

Salvador Togores, literary translator, goes to Switzerland to make a stay at a translator's residence just a year after his father's death. There, by surprise, he finds Bachtel, the famous writer who had disappeared from the public eye for many years and author of worship. In the past, Markus Bachtel had been a close friend of the Togores family, especially of the father, but the relationship broke up abruptly and painfully. During a series of nights, Bachtel, like a modern Sherezade, reveals the incredible story of his life and the reason for his escape and disappearance.

A novel on friendship, love and the limits of ambition.

With the serene and rebel gaze of Júlia, Laura Pinyol writes about what we are capable of doing when we lose our fear and dare to live in freedom.

Desire, loss, renunciations and love walk through the life of Julia, a thirty-four-year-old woman who moves to live to the distant Terra Alta with her two children after an emotional breakdown. Far from the city, Julia reinvents herself and is reborn. She learns to live with the gaps left by the people she loved -her charismatic mother, a missing husband, the elusive lover, her friend Tona-, to puzzle over her memories and start from scratch.

Wild, disturbing and stabbing. An outstanding debut.

A vitalist and moving novel of powerful women, of very diverse family universes, of explosive loves and intense relationships, and of such solid characters that cannot but stay with you for long.

The Author

Sergi Pons Codina

(Barcelona, 1979). Mars del Carib was the first novel of Pons Codina, a real joy for the readers and a big surprise for the critics, not used to read such a straightforward, authentic and sharp prose in Catalan. This was followed by Dies de ratafia where Pons Codina kept exploring the triangle formed by friendship, neighborhood, and alcohol. With Mal bon pare he achieves recognition as a storyteller, and opens his universe to the world of couples, parents and children, adding depth and complexity to his work without losing a single bit of his punch.

A COOL, SHARP AND VITAL NOVEL ABOUT FATHERHOOD AND THE CRISIS OF THE 40S IN A MAN WHO RESISTS MATURING. BECAUSE THERE'S A THIRD WAY BETWEEN A GOOD OR A BAD FATHER: BEING A BAD GOOD ONE!

At the crossroad of life, an anti-hero of our time doomed to carry the weight of relentless parenting, with endless patience, is forced to decide what he wants to be when he grows up. Bad dad? Good father?

Carles Vila aspired to a calm maturity. He was about to turn forty. The girls were almost grown. He was becoming more and more convinced that life was a boomerang who had taken him away, but would end up leaving him gently at the bar door where he had come from, the beloved Mars del Carib.

He was wrong. An unexpected pregnancy blocks the path of freedom and puts him in front of a large family, a tedious work, his ultra-conservative parents and not less benevolent parents-in-law, and an endless pain in the stomach unable to control.

A book about new masculinity (or fatherhood today) described not from nonsense but from an ironic filter.

AN ORIGINAL, IRREVERENT AND WITTY NOVEL BY ONE OF THE MOST BRILLIANT AUTHORS OF THE CURRENT CATALAN NARRATIVE.

A BARCELONA TALE
 WITH GOD AS THE STORYTELLER.

This is a Barcelona story told by a God in low hours that seeks the complicity of the reader to present Mr. Folch, a man born in 1942 in highly peculiar conditions and who is graceful with superhuman powers.

Bastard son of a despotic and unscrupulous bourgeois, Mr. Folch discovers that he has unusual powers. However, he does not take advantage of them the way his mentor and father in the shade, God, would like. Mr. Folch comes into contact with spiritualist circles and also with the clandestine struggle against dictator Franco. His life takes a turn when, as if he was a superhero, he feels called to save the city and the country.

Military, prostitutes, Wagnerians, gypsies, workers and maids, Mr. Folch's panorama seems far from victory, but he will make this corner of the world a little better.

1. SIN, DISEASE OR SYSTEM?
2. ORIGIN OF THE SIN OF GLUTTONY
3. GLUTTONY AND WOMEN
4. VERBORRHEA AND GLUTTONY, TO FINISH

The glutton is victim and guilty. Gluttony has gone from being an offense to God to being a social sin.

Except on that days when lack of control is allowed, and apart from those who have a bull thanks to their position, boundless gluttony is usually considered bad taste. Gluttony has mutated in disease: it has jumped from voluntary vice to hereditary misfortune, from the sin of the rich to the sin of all, from individual depravity to social tendency. We have socialized the virtues, but also the tares.

With highly expressive prose, Adrià Pujol makes a very unique journey around gluttony through the West literary, cinematographic, artistic and iconographic tradition.

Claustre, main character of Els llits dels altres, stops the car at a roadside inn. The visit to her mother has left her with awful feelings and she needs to calm down. The bartender woman is an old acquaintance with a murky past. Outside it is already dark, and confidences of a life-time will ignite the night.

The author dazzles with her gaze the body and sex of Claustre, sculpted by the alcoholism of the father, the frustrating apathy of the mother and a stolen innocence that has led her to lose herself in the beds of others.

With no fuss, bitterness nor desolation, Claustre stares at all the inheritances she's carrying, however sordid, sad and shameful they may be. With the good dose of black humor typical of those who have gone to a bottomless pit and have survived.

THE POWER OF DREAMS.

Banderes dels altres is a rich portrait of a society that fights to leave behind the wounds of war. In a temporary arc that goes from 1936 to 1975, several family strains braid their lives despite the old confrontation during a war that, in fact, everyone lost.

The main narrative thread follows Jepi Gual, the youngest of three orphaned brothers from a Republican family who leaves school to work in a workshop, rents a hut near the pond where he boils skins to create glue and builds a company that with the years becomes a thriving factory. Jepi ends up marrying his childhood love, the daughter of an owner who had been 'on the other side'.

The Jury:

A magical and deeply moving portrayal superbly realised of the relationship between grandfather, grandson and the loss and transmission of memory.

From now on there will be five at home. Jan tries to discover why his parents did not smile when they gave him the news: grandpas Joan and Caterina go to live with them, in their flat in Barcelona. Now the house is filled with some silences that Jan will try to decipher with the help of his grandfather. And little by little, between walks full of questions and answers, silences and tress, Jan and we will discover how memories are made, how they are conserved and how they are lost. Between the big city and a small town of barely five hundred inhabitants, Jan pursues the story of a mysterious weeping willow that the grandfather treasures in his infancy since childhood.

While the first one builds his memory, his identity, the second sees his own disappear.

Excerpt from UK Reading Report

(by Laura McGloughlin)

“La memòria de l'arbre is a beautifully-written, poignant novel about the relationship between a boy and his grandfather, told in a series of vignettes, which leaves a lasting impression on the reader.

The novel is artfully constructed as a series of memories and glimpses into one small boy's world as it changes around him, often evocative and quietly devastating. The novel's true strength, however, lies in the writing. Vallès' style is deceptively simple yet effective. Vallès realises Jan's voice brilliantly -he is bright and sensitive to the moods of the adults around him, and his narration never feels contrived.

I loved this novel and it stayed with me for days after I finished reading it. Vallès manages to evoke genuine feeling in the reader -the depiction of the relationship between Jan and his grandfather brought me to tears more than once.

Its universal themes of love and memory, coupled with the increasingly topical subject matter of dementia, make this a very universal novel.

Today, like yesterday, fascism is a real threat that must be fought.

Núria Cadenes, with exquisite and restrained style, retells the case of Guillem Agulló, a young 18-year-old anti-fascist killed in 1993 by a neonazi. The case scared forever a whole generation of young people in Europe and Guillem became a symbol of freedom. The murder of Guillem Agulló is a chilling example of the impunity with which fascism acts, under the protection of police forces and the judicial system, and with the shameful complicity of certain media capable of manipulating reality to the point of presenting the victim as executioner. Far from being local, Guillem's case is more global than ever. Neither forget nor forgive.

A totally unexpected discovery: more than 5,000 photographs that Antoni Campañà Bandranas (1906-1989) took during the three years of the Civil War. A huge frieze of life at war by one of the great pictorialist photographers of the country.

After the storm, Campañà made these photographs invisible for the remaining fifty years of his life. He didn't want anyone to see them, but on the other hand he didn't destroy them. A photographer cannot give up what his eyes have seen. Who was that testimony for?

The Author

Jordi Cuixart

(Santa Perpètua de Mogoda, 1975) is the 10th president of Òmnium Cultural, the main civic-cultural entity in Catalonia with more than 180.000 members. Imprisoned for more than 600 days when he wrote this short manifesto, he was jailed for calling on participation in the peaceful demonstration of September 20th and the referendum on October 1st 2017. The Spanish Supreme Court ordered imprisonment without bail for him, accused of Rebellion and Sedition for the defense of the right and freedom to expression. Sentenced to nine years.

“ A short manifesto written from jail. ”

Jordi Cuixart has made his imprisonment a tool to denounce the repression and defend human rights.

We'll Do It Again is a personal and collective manifesto, vital and political, meditated after more than 20 months in prison. An emotional manifesto but rigorous, direct and brave, which leads us to lose our fear and conscientiously exercise the fundamental freedoms threatened in Catalonia and throughout the world. It invites us to the permanent nonviolent mobilization. Because when injustice is the law, civil disobedience is a right. When you have been robbed of freedom as a result of an injustice, what do you have left? You have the possibility of obeying your conscience and not falling into resignation or frustration. Jordi Cuixart, the 10th president of Òmnium Cultural, has decided to transform the sadness and gray of a cell into the best speaker of the shared struggle human rights.

International calls for Jordi Cuixart's freedom.

Amnesty International

"Jordi Cuixart must be released immediately and his convictions on the charge of sedition must be quashed. The Supreme Court's interpretation of the crime of sedition was overly broad and resulted in criminalizing legitimate acts of protest."

Ai Weiwei, Artist and activist in exile (China)

"Jordi Cuixart has an amazing spirit, like an artist. Prison has made him stronger."

Ken Loach, Filmmaker (UK)

"I hope Jordi Cuixart will be released soon from this unjust imprisonment."

Noam Chomsky, Linguist and activist (USA)

"Jordi Cuixart is a political prisoner. A person detained for exercising the right to freedom of expression is a political prisoner."

Jody Williams, Activist and Nobel Peace Prize 1997 (USA)

"State has made Jordi Cuixart a political prisoner because they want to send the message that human rights are at risk."

Angela Davis, Philosopher and activist (USA)

"We urge Spain to release the nine Catalan prisoners and to solve this political conflict through dialogue."

Nora Cortiñas, Activist and co-founder Madres de la Plaza de Mayo (Argentina)

"Jordi is in an unfair jail. I've seen it full, convinced. We are in the same fight."

Jason Y NG, Activist and lawyer (Hong Kong)

"Anywhere in the world needs icons like Jordi Cuixart to defend freedom of expression."

Jennifer Clement, PEN International

"PEN International calls on the Spanish authorities to release Jordi Cuixart immediately."

Andrew Anderson, Front Line Defenders

"We are fighting for the freedom of a human rights defender who has been sentenced to 9 years in prison for organizing a peaceful demonstration."

Pep Guardiola, Football Manager (Catalonia)

"I dedicate this victory to Jordi Cuixart and Jordi Sànchez. Hopefully they can leave soon because now it's like we're all a little bit there."

Cover Letter by Jordi Cuixart to foreign publishers or readers.

Dear Reader,

Life is meaningless, you give meaning to life. And after 850 days locked in a cell I've learned that even in prison you can somehow find happiness, and fighting for freedom is a privilege.

My name is Jordi Cuixart and I am a Catalan political prisoner in Spain. The Supreme Court sentenced me to nine years for leading a peaceful demonstration and urging participation in a referendum, i.e. for exercising the right to protest and freedom of expression as Amnesty International has made clear.

Being in prison has only strengthened my democratic convictions. I haven't been aiming to get out of prison fast but, more than anything else, to leave with dignity. And, in reality, I am in prison for being the president of Òmnium Cultural, one of the largest civil society organisations in Europe with 185,000 members.

In these dark days, when our planet is crumbling from the climate emergency, and thousands drown in the Mediterranean seeking better lives, while hate speech spreads and strengthens, and women are still fighting for equality, we must never forget our responsibility to defend human rights. We can't afford despair. Let's leave pessimism for better times. Prison has given me an opportunity to fully understand the real power of culture, and to love all that we have as human beings.

We'll Do It Again aims to be a cry for hope, to clamour against resignation and frustration, a call for nonviolent action and freedom, but far from giving lessons or establishing dogmas. It is a tribute to all those who struggle for a world that truly belongs to everyone.

Yes, we'll do it again, we'll exercise those human rights that led to my imprisonment, for the sheer love of life.

Best regards

Jordi Cuixart
President of Òmnium Cultural

CANCER IS, WITHOUT A DOUBT, ONE OF THE MOST KNOWN AND FEARED DISEASES. BUT WHAT DO WE REALLY KNOW ABOUT IT?

✓ THIS BOOK IS...

A reference for both patients and family members who want to know more, but also for anyone who is curious about one of the most complex and fascinating biological enigmas that exist.

✗ THIS BOOK IS NOT...

A guide of advice on how to act when someone suffers cancer. The only recommendation to give is “pay attention to your doctor”.

How many different types of cancer are there? When does it originate? What exactly happens in a cancer cell? What is chemotherapy? And the new targeted therapies? Are there natural remedies against cancer? Does it affect everyone equally? When can it be said that a cancer has healed?

This book wants to answer 100 essential questions about cancer that many people have surely made.

The best way to deal with cancer is to understand what it is and why it happens.

Follow the desire, share the pleasure. It seems easy, right? And yet, we live sexualities conditioned by expectations, budgets and taboos that make it difficult for us to listen to ourselves. Follem? explores the paths that can lead us to more human sexualities, more pleasant relationships.

What we are (not) talking about when we talk about ~~sex~~ sexualities.

“ Perhaps the first thing we should learn about sex is to unlearn. Unlearn the desire that we have been taught to feel, unlearn the shame. [...] And then, with different eyes, look deep inside and ask ourselves what we want, what we like, what we want to discover.

Dare to doubt, to explore, to make mistakes, to stop at any moment. Get out of what "should be" and get into what makes us vibrate.

Asterisc Agents & Awards

Asterisc Agents was born in 2016 from the infatigable curiosity of two literary agents dynamic in mind and innovative in spirit.

Since then, Asterisc has grown with permanent attention to detail without losing the essence that drives the project, and convinced that only with tenacious work, personal deferential contact and the tireless will of growth and improvement, any goal set can be reached.

Today, Asterisc Agents already has a carefully selected list of authors and foreign representations that consolidate and project the agency to the international market. The authors who have trusted the agency have received awards and recognitions of first national level and their works do travel around the world, where they are being discovered by new readers from other latitudes. Attendance to international salons and book fairs (London, Guadalajara, Frankfurt, Bologna, Turin...) is the way for us to share our books and keep doing what we love and know how to do: to spread the passion for good stories next to its authors, the publishers who publish them and the readers who read them. Want to join us?
